Will License be Granted in Albany?

The Transcript of last evening spears thus, authoritatively, on this subject:—"Applications were made to Mayor Parmeise on Monday, by several dealers for a recewil of licenses, but as the Mayor desired to examine the law, he deferred his decision until this morning, when he informed the applicants that he could not renew their Recesses until the expiration of those they now held, the first Tuesday in May. When asked whether he would then grant renewals, he replied that he could not as yet decide; that he wished those engaged in the business to prapare a statement of the amount of their samual receipts, and that he would submit the whole thing to the Common Council, when the matter would be settled as to the right to grant Recesses under the city charter. Thus the whole subject is in a very unextise, state, but we undoustand it is the intention of the lique yr manufacturers and dealers to take immediate steps to cautest the law."—Albemy Atlas, April 11.

Second Letter of George Sanders to the Demo-eracy, on Marcy and Cuba. New York, April 10, 1855.

America has set before the world two great principle by one act. In the law of naturalization she proclaims as once the right of seeking a country at choice, and the right of expatriation which is inherent to it.

Marieon in 1812 went to war with Great Britain to maintain the right of British subjects to expatriate them lives. Marcy in 1855 acts with the whole power of the feartle government to restrain American citizens in the clurcies of such rights. Espionage is the order of the day; and that, for the benefit of the virtuous Isabella and the humane Concha. Marcy's appetite is axcited at the fruits, of being himself the grand informer. There is something that smacks of cayenne in huating to the death a popular movement. Marshale and district at torneys of the federal government are running hither and thither, led on by Concha's spies; conversations and conduct are noted; and if any of this nation of citizen soldiers should be suspected of daving to seek fortunand fame in other lands, with a revolver in pocket, they are in danger of being arrested and imprisoned; and, should these brave and enterprising emigrants escaphe vigilance of the civil police, our gallant navy officers are required to degrade themselves to kidnappers, and seize sovereign citizens upon the golden op aions he has won from absolute governments upon his successful inauguration in America of the European passpoit and rights. The cherished privilege of privacy is now nowhere safe from governmental spies. Jesuit order reigns.

The camons of the republic had to boom submissive reparation for the insult officed to be colors, and one hundred guns were fired for the steamer Pizzaro as she ascended the Mississippi, bringing back in triumph the offended Consul to his poet.
